Dear ITV America Management,

We, the film industry professionals and viewers of The First 48, After the First 48, Alone and Pawn Stars, stand with the workers represented by Writers Guild of America East (WGAE) during their ongoing contract negotiations.

For over a decade, the producers behind the First 48, After the First 48, Alone and Pawn Stars have crafted stories that have captivated, surprised and inspired millions of people. The work done by WGAE-represented workers has not only impacted the lives of the viewers - it has also produced millions of dollars in profit for ITV America, A&E and Warner Brothers Discovery.

For the past year, ITV America has been negotiating with the union, and the time for them to agree to a fair contract is long past due. That's why we are urging ITV America to settle a fair and just contract with their WGAE-represented workers in an expeditious manner. Long delays, proposals that are out of line with industry standards, and refusals to respond to important proposals do not reflect well on the company's stated principles. The workers who create your content deserve fair wages, adequate healthcare coverage, an improved retirement plan and paid family and parental leave.

We stand united in support of the union's proposals and their call for a fair and just contract. Many of us know the mental, physical, and financial sacrifices that come with building a sustainable career in the film and television industry. We are calling on ITV America to be the industry leaders they are and set a precedent others can follow to create a more inclusive and transparent work environment.

With this contract, we believe that ITV America can continue to produce meaningful and profitable content and treat their employees with the respect and dignity they deserve.

Respectfully,
